

“WHEN ALL IS CONFUSION”

As we were completing the preparation for the present issue of the review, a person who has been a member of the Lady's Work for a long time, wrote to the editor to share with him what he had “found”. We are reproducing his comments below.

“You ought to publish what is written in ‘Les Trésors de “Vie d’Amour”’, volume 6, because the idea Marc Bosquart developed therein, based on quotations from Marie-Paule, is both of a great importance and a great topicality.

“The article has as a title, ‘Soon, It Will Be Necessary to Re-build Everything’ and is found on pages 26 to 33. It consists of an introduction and five subsections. The one I am referring to is the third one entitled, ‘Good, Evil, “at the Same Time”’.

“In it, we read that the redressing of everything will not come after the general collapse, but that the new world must take shape AT THE SAME TIME as the present world is disintegrating. Now, since this process seems to have begun (there is so much confusion everywhere!), this allows us to hope that we will soon see the beginning of the ‘setting up’ of the new world. Perhaps this process has already started.

“Of course, the transition will be long, hard and painful, and we know this, but, when we see the state the world is in, why not rejoice over the fact that the ‘re-ascend’ could be about to begin?”

Here is the passage from the article in “Trésors de ‘Vie d’Amour’” he was referring to.

Good, Evil, “at the Same Time”

It is a well-established fact in Marie-Paule’s writings: there is a simultaneousness – a direct and concordant relationship – between the collapse of evil and the coming of good. This latter does not come after the former, but at the same time. It is written in black and white in the following [excerpts]. Marie-Paule declared, in fact:

- “Soon, when all is confusion, the Lord will show that He has revealed himself to the little and the simple, and it is they who will put everything back in order.”
- “And so, at the moment when all human power crumbles, [the Lord] will launch [purified souls] on a great mission...”
- “So when all this diabolical rot will crumble, a new seed, prepared by Mary will spring up, and the earth will be renewed.”
- “That will be the hour of renewal, of the Marian victory. It will also be the hour of distress and great sufferings.”<sup>1</sup>

In each one of those sentences, there is an expression of simultaneousness:

when all is confusion...

... the Lord will show that He revealed himself...

at the moment when all human power crumbles...

... [the Lord] will launch [purified souls]...

when all will crumble...

... a new seed, prepared by Mary, will spring up...

That will be the hour of renewal...

It will also be the hour of distress.

After the quotations from Marie-Paule in which a parallel was shown, the author drew the following conclusion.

The Triumph of Good Over Evil

Thus, the progressive victory of good will coincide with the increasingly more generalized collapse of evil. However, this will not happen without considerable upheavals. So, Marie-Paule foretold that “all human power will crumble”, “all that was built up in hatred, lies and revolt”, and that this will be the time of “chaos” and “confusion”, which means that “the hour of distress and great sufferings” will have come for all of humanity.

Yes, but “a light will shine in the darkness”, and this time, darkness will recede before the active force of the Co-Redemptrix joined to the Redeemer. Then everything will be ready so that the “little” and the “simple” will “put everything back in order” because “it will be necessary to rebuild everything”.

- “We must lift up all that has fallen.”
- “Soon, the world will be redolent with all the virtues.”
- “Soon, we shall witness the day of victory, and behold events that will distress the world.”
- “That will be the hour of renewal, of the Marian victory.”<sup>2</sup>

The “renewal”, the “Marian victory”, “everything in order”, and “all the virtues”! May that time come which the world has been awaiting for so long!

That is in fact what the Christian people have been asking of God for centuries, and Marie-Paule told us, in His name: “Soon”.
